

BMA Assistance: worldwide service

Profile

BMA Assistance – service throughout the life cycle of your plant

Existing plants or new investments, mechanical parts or automation, maintenance, repairs, modifications or parts service, service agreements or staff training – whatever it is you need, BMA Assistance will ensure that your plants are running smoothly.

Superior quality: original BMA parts

BMA machinery and equipment are known for their superior quality and durability. Thanks to our OEM-quality mechanical and electronic parts, your equipment will continue to function perfectly, so production can run at a consistently high level. At many sites around the globe, we stock over 10,000 BMA spare parts at all times.

Re-builds and upgrades

Much can happen in the service life of a plant. Machinery and equipment are constantly changing. With our all-round service programme, you can be sure that your investment will turn into a success story. Because 30 years or more need not spell the end of the line for your machinery and plants.

BMA Academy – success through knowledge

A good plant needs good personnel. Each of our training programmes is tailor-made. Those new to the field can start with the different stages of sugar production, while others with more advanced knowledge will focus on the operation of our machinery and equipment. Experienced participants can learn about troubleshooting and optimising production.
